SECOND SESSION

National Issues – Strategic and Regulatory

India has a geographical advantage for E & P activities. Both the West as well as the East Coast offers untapped and sustained Oil and Gas resources. Regulatory and policy evaluation presupposes knowledge of the cause and effect. The session will talk about various legal and regulatory issues to be dealt with while entering or working in the Indian market.

Session Chairman – Mr. R.L. Pal, Independent Advisor - Oil & Gas Infrastructure

Regulatory issues for Offshore services– Suresh Kumar, Chief Ship surveyor-cum-Jt. DG (Tech), DG Shipping
 Role of Coast Guard – Dr.P.Paleri, Former DG Coast Guard

THIRD SESSION

Offshore support sector – Present market and scope in future

The offshore support sector offers immense scope for variety of vessels. Lack of high-quality yards in this region makes India to take advantage of this situation. Traditional shipyards are full and the industry is turning to newer and low cost destinations such as India, Vietnam and Turkey. Listen to eminent speakers to get an insight on the Indian yard capabilities as well as the chartering market.

Session Chairman – Mr.A.K.Gupta, Director (Technical and Offshore services), SCI

Logistics Challenges in Offshore Projects – Avinash Mishra & Vishal Desai, Manager, Supply Chain – Logistics) Larsen & Toubro Limited, Oil & Gas and Special Projects.

LNG Fuel Technology for the OSV – Implementation & approach –Mr.M.V.Ramamurthy, President (Shipping), RIL

Developments & advancements in the dynamic positioning technology –

Mr.Harsh Puri, Area Sales Manager, DP & Automation, India

FIFTH SESSION

Finance, Insurance and Legal

No industry remained unaffected by the 2008 financial tsunami. The shipping sector, notorious for its cyclical nature, was left high and dry. Though the clouds are slowly fading giving way to some sunshine, the industry is still looking out to tap whatever sources for funding. This session will try to explore the various finance options available for shipowners amidst the tight liquidity.

Session Chairman – Sr. Adv. S. Venkiteshwaran, Pandi Correspondents

Financing Ship owners perspective – Mr.B.K.Mandal, Director, Finance, SCI

Financing Offshore projects – Banks perspective – Ms.S.Atmanathan, GM, SBI

Legal – Sr. Adv. S. Venkiteshwaran, Pandi Correspondents

SIXTH SESSION

Risk Management & Safety issues

Although, the level of automation on the offshore vessels is high, automated systems are essential for safety, reliability and efficient performance. This session deals with understanding risk assessment, safety aspects and the implementation for the protection of life, environment and assets.

Session Chairman – Capt.M.M.Saggi, Nautical Advisor, D.G.Shipping

Understanding the Safety issues – Capt. D. Sidhva, Advisor, Great Offshore Ltd

Offshore Safety – Marine issues – Capt.P.K.Panda, DGM (Marine Safety), ONGC

SEVENTH SESSION

Human resource development in the offshore sector

Offshore shipping sector needs to be recognized as a distinct branch from Foreign going and Coastal shipping. For a young mariner it is a career in itself. Unless this sector gets such an identity, a talent crunch will always be felt. This session will seek to identify the manpower needs.

Session Chairman – Capt. Sandeep Kalia, Executive Director, Great Offshore Salvage services Ltd

Effectiveness of skilled manpower on the growth of the industry – Capt.Subhedhar, Director MR / DP, Ocean Sparkle Ltd. Group of Companies
